PROFESSIONAL FOCUS: I believe the next generation of marketing will be shaped by people who can connect creative thinking, data, and AI. With experience in brand storytelling, campaign execution, and community building, I'm expanding into marketing analytics, AI-driven automation, and growth experimentation. I enjoy turning ambiguous challenges into actionable strategies, testing new ideas, and building solutions from scratch, especially in fast-moving startup environments.

EXPERIENCE

INSTA360 — Summer 2026
Brand Marketing Intern

- Supported SurveyMonkey research from survey design and analysis across diving, mountain biking, and skiing; used AI to translate ~300 survey responses and visualized findings for the marketing research team, informing product improvements and market positioning.
- Developed consumer value propositions and product presentations for Insta360 GO Ultra and X4, translating technical features into benefit-led messaging for marketing communications.
- Selected ~100 participants, curated user stories, and produced event messaging and materials for Insta360 Cyclist Fest Paris, supporting a Tour de France activation that drew 200+ riders.
- Coordinated China and U.S. brand teams on a movie red carpet activation, developing engagement concepts and partnering with creator/social teams on creator selection.

DREAME TECHNOLOGY — Summer 2025
Marketing and Public Relations Intern

- Developed creative strategy and influencer briefs for U.S. seasonal campaigns, including Back-to-School, translating campaign concepts into direction for creator content.
- Built and segmented a list of 200+ journalists across technology, lifestyle, and parenting to target product-launch and seasonal outreach; tailored pitches and managed media follow-ups.
- Refined brand and competitor searches in Meltwater's AI-powered monitoring platform, reviewing mentions and adding keyword exclusions to remove irrelevant coverage; used dashboards to produce weekly sentiment and share-of-voice reports for marketing and PR teams.
- Supported the San Diego flagship store launch through event logistics and PR outreach for 100+ attendees and 5+ media/creator partners; tracked 20+ earned-media placements with 10K+ potential impressions.

SHEIN — Summer 2022
Fashion Trend Analyst Intern

- Conducted market and trend analysis on emerging fashion and lifestyle trends to inform product and marketing strategies.
- Produced internal trend reports and visual decks summarizing consumer insights and cultural trends.
- Collaborated with creative and marketing teams to support campaign concept development and product storytelling.
